Dear Dan:

Thank you for offering me the opportunity to brief the distinguished community leaders from your Congressional District on 25 July.

I am sorry to report that my calendar is chock-a-block on the 25th. If your constituents would like a general briefing on the role of intelligence and how the Intelligence Community works, I am pleased to offer you the services of my excellent Public Affairs staff, headed by George Lauder (351-7676). If, however, your guests will be content with nothing else but a briefing on the situation in Nicaragua and the rest of Central America, I suggest a more appropriate briefer might be sought from the Department of State.

Thank you again for the invitation. Please feel free to contact Mr. Lauder directly if you would like his help.

Sincerely,

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence

Honorable William J. Casey

Dear Bill:

I'm writing in the hopes you can do me a very big favor.

On July 25, a group of approximately 25 key community leaders from my Congressional District will be in Washington for a day of briefings by several Members of Congress. As one who is a firm supporter of the President's policies in Central America I thought it would be an excellent opportunity to brief this group on the situation in the region and in particular the situation in Nicaragua.

I would like to invite you to give a presentation to this group. A room in the Capitol Building has been reserved.

If your busy schedule would permit your appearance, we will be pleased to work out a time that is convenient to you.

Thank you for your interest, I am

Sincerely,

Daniel B. Crane, M.C.

P.S. Appreciate any help you can give me!
